GENERAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNMENT.

The Board of Government takes pleasure in presenting its story of the Union's work for the fifty-ninth year,—a pleasure marred by the duty of recording the death during the year of its beloved President Emeritus, William H. Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin was chosen to take the leadership of the Union work April 15, 1868, and for over thirty-eight years directed the affairs of the institution, with results ever increasing in value and extent.

The story of his life and accomplishment is too well known to require record in detail in these pages. It is, however, a happy privilege of his fellow-members of the Board of Government to record here a brief tribute of their appreciation of his splendid work. At a meeting of the Board, called on the day after his death, the following resolutions were adopted:—

“Mr. William H. Baldwin, our beloved President Emeritus, having passed from this life on the 8th of June, in the eighty-third year of his age, we wish to put on record our appreciation of his character and services and our sense of loss in his death.

“In 1868, at the reorganization of the Union into new life and activity, Mr. Baldwin gave up a promising career to become its President. He brought to the Union the experience of a successful business training and an educated public spirit, and for forty years with a single purpose he devoted to its growth an untiring energy and zeal, a wise judgment and intelligent foresight, and a paternal love and fidelity. For all the members who came and went in the two score years he was a kind father, and they were the children of his constant and watchful care. Upon the lives of the young men within and without its walls he impressed his own kindliness, industry, and devotion. To few has been given a greater power and influence for good over the young men of this city and the Commonwealth. His name, therefore, will long be held in affectionate remembrance by the many who had the advantage of his acquaintance, and especially by us, who have enjoyed a closer intimacy with him in the work to which he was so entirely devoted."

On the day of the funeral the Union Building was closed during the hours of the church service. This tribute is of peculiar interest from the fact that it is the only occasion since the dedication of the building in 1875 that its doors have been closed during the regular daytime hours.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 20, 1909, a Memorial Service in Mr. Baldwin's honor was held in Tremont Temple. The meeting was opened with brief remarks by President Frank L. Locke, who introduced Hon. John D. Long as the presiding officer. Inspiring and cordial addresses were made by Mr. Long and by Hon. Joseph Walker, Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, D.D., Hon. Henry H. Sprague, Rev. George A. Gordon, D.D., Mr. Jerome Jones, Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham, D.D., and Rev. Edward A. Horton. There was a suitable musical programme under the direction of Mr. Arthur T. Foote.

A simple memorial volume, giving a short sketch of Mr. Baldwin's life, with a full account of the memorial meeting, is in preparation, and is expected will soon be ready for distribution.

The Union has sustained a great loss in the retirement from the Board of Government of Hon. Henry H.

Sprague, Vice-President, and Dr. William L. Richardson, Treasurer, whose resignations were most reluctantly accepted at the June meeting of the Board by the following vote: "In deference to their wishes we accept the resignations of these gentlemen, but we do so with sincere regret and with warm appreciation of the distinguished services which they have given to the Christian Union during so many years. As members of the Board, we tender our retiring colleagues our most cordial regards, and express the hope that they will continue to show an active interest in the important work which they have done so much to promote."

Mr. Sprague had been connected with the Union, and most actively, since 1867, and Dr. Richardson since 1870. Both served the Union with conspicuous interest and efficiency. Mr. Sprague, in the earlier days, as Secretary was particularly energetic and an important factor in the reorganization after the war. He was elected Vice-President in 1877. Dr. Richardson filled the responsible position of Treasurer during practically all his forty years' service.

The story of one year's work at the Union differs little from another except in minor details and as occasion presents itself for improvement or extension of the opportunities for young men to associate in mutual effort for self-improvement.

It is our aim to make the Rooms, in all that the word implies, a home for young men; to offer every possible attraction in the shape of books, papers, games, pleasant companions, evening classes, public religious services, lectures, entertainments, and other means of instruction and recreation.

Effort is made to meet young men coming to the city as strangers, to extend to them a cordial welcome, and to interest them in the activities and advantages of Union membership. Boarding and lodging house lists are provided. An active employment department assists those applying to find work.

Direction is given those desiring to connect themselves with churches. The Gymnasium affords opportunity for physical development under competent instruction. Committees visit the sick, arrange for the distribution of clothing to young men needing such assistance, and in many similar ways befriend and cheer those in need and trouble.

Special effort is made to interest the members themselves in the work, and many of them respond to the invitations to assist individually or as members of the various Committees. As one of our early reports puts it: "It is in vain that we have sumptuously furnished our rooms, as bountifully supplied our library, or filled our lecture-rooms with crowded audiences, if we have not learned to be active in works of Christian duty. If we would be anything, we must do something."

Without losing sight of its particular work, the Union has always been prompt to offer such assistance as it might give in times of calamity and disaster, as well as to co-operate in such general social service as comes within its scope. The well-known "Country Week," "Rides for Invalids," and the "Christmas and New Year's Festival" for needy children are among the now regularly established departments.

In the "Boston-1915" Exposition, held in the old Art Museum Building, Copley Square, in November, the Union was represented by an exhibit located prominently on the second floor, and telling in a graphic way, by means of charts and pictures, the story of its past and present and of its hopes for the future. The handsome oil painting of the late President Emeritus, William H. Baldwin, by Robert Gordon Hardie, was made the central feature of the main wall, and grouped about it in attractive arrangement were the various pictures and charts. Suitable desks, loaned by the Columbian Life Insurance Company, with appropriate furniture from our own building, gave the exhibit a practical business-like appearance. Some official or volunteer member of the Union was in attendance throughout the Exposition to explain our work and give any desired information.

The story in detail of the past year will be found in the reports, which follow, of the various Committees having charge of the different departments.

All persons interested in the Union and wishing to aid by contributions, by professional services as teachers, by engaging in its benevolent work, or in any other way, will confer a favor by communicating with any of the officers or Committees, or proffering their assistance at the Rooms.

FINANCE.

This department represents the business end of our institution, and the liberal support accorded to it merits the sincere thanks of every Union member.

For donations and legacies we are alike grateful. The donations find immediate use in our daily work, and the legacies are welcome additions to our Permanent Fund.

Our various Committees make constant demands upon the Treasurer for money to meet our increasing needs and expanding opportunities.

We realize the pressure made upon our contributors by the innumerable agencies for philanthropic and social service, and hesitate to urge any claim of our own upon an overtaxed though still generous public. We feel, however, that the character of our work and the fruitfulness of its field among the youth of our city justify us in continuing our appeal for the means wherewith to carry on and extend our operations.

While, of course, the Union must depend greatly upon the larger contributions of business men and corporations, it is particularly hoped that the younger men will do their share in supporting an enterprise especially planned to promote their own welfare and enjoyment. Let the clerk, the book-keeper, the salesman, give, according to his means, for the general good, paying for his own membership and that of a comrade or two, and, above all, putting something of himself into the gift by taking a live interest in our affairs and "lending a hand" to push them along.

In this connection the Committee would particularly call attention to the recently established Sustaining Membership, the annual fee for which is $10, and which was established with the view of enabling such of our members as feel that they can afford to do so to contribute more nearly in proportion to the cost to the Union of the privileges enjoyed. This Sustaining Membership includes the privileges of the Gymnasium as well as of general membership.

Donations should be sent to Frank L. Locke, President, Boston Young Men's Christian Union, 48 Boylston Street, for which prompt acknowledgment will be made.

The financial statement by the Treasurer, Edward A. Church, is presented herewith.

A CLASS-ROOM.

LECTURES, CLASSES, AND ENTERTAINMENTS.

This Committee is in charge of the department of lectures, classes, and entertainments, a department which appeals to the social and intellectual side of the young man's nature. It also has supervision of the various clubs within the Union.

The illustrated lectures on travel combine entertainment and education. The series given during the LECTURES. past year was of unusual excellence, and was a source of much pleasure and profit to those members privileged to attend. The usual course of ten illustrated "Practical Talks" was given on successive Saturday evenings, beginning January 8, 1910, and was successful in bringing together audiences interested in the various scientific subjects, ably presented by college professors and others expert in their special lines of research or business.

It has been the custom of the Union for many years to afford members the opportunity of taking up evening courses of study. The classes were, as EVENING CLASSES. usual, popular and well patronized, more space than ever before being required to accommodate the large number of students. The Committee feels very deeply the importance to young men of this part of the Union's work in the cause of education, supplementing the public school course and bringing to the ambitious young man opportunities INCREASED EFFICIENCY. for study and self-improvement which eventually lead to increased efficiency in business and in the every-day duties of the citizen. While not undertaking to furnish complete courses in its classes, the Union offers to its members an excellent opportunity to secure instruction in all the popular branches. These classes have been found to be of great benefit to those deprived of the opportunity of taking more complete courses of instruction, and meet the demands of many of our members who have only one or two evenings a week to give up to this work.

A detailed report of Mr. Harrison M. Duffill, the Superintendent of Classes, who has been in charge during the past season under our Educational Director, Mr. Church, follows:—

The forty-first season of evening classes opened on Oct. 18, 1909, with the following organization:—

Director.	Superintendent.
EDWARD A. CHURCH.	HARRISON M. DUFFILL.
Instructors.	Subjects.
Chauncy C. Batchelor . . . .	English Literature.
Joseph H. Bramble . . . .	Typewriting.
George H. Chapin . . . .	Penmanship.
Philip F. Clapp . . . .	Arithmetic and Book-keeping.
Frank DeSilva . . . .	Lettering and Sign Painting.
Wayland F. Dorothy . . . .	Government and Citizenship.
Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr. . . .	Salesmanship and Business.
Everett L. Getchell . . . .	Civil Service.
Maude J. Getchell . . . .	Civil Service.
Hugo F. Kuehne . . . .	Architectural and Mechanical Drawing.
William A. Lackey . . . .	Business Law.
Frank M. McCutcheon . . . .	English Grammar and Business English.
Irvin L. Potter . . . .	Elocution and English for Foreigners.
Stillman Powers . . . .	Freehand Drawing and Painting.
Wilfred S. White . . . .	Shorthand.
Stephen E. Woodbury . . . .	Electricity.
Berlitz School . . . .	French, German, Italian, and Spanish.
Roscoe G. Wells . . . .	First Aid to the Injured.

No competition with established schools has been attempted. The policy of the Union's Evening Classes has been, and continues to be, that of co-operative effort, offering to its members assistance and supervision by engaging instructors of recognized merit and providing suitable class-room equipment. To the former list of subjects offered have been added three, English for Foreigners, First Aid to the Injured, and Lettering and Sign Painting. The Class in Government and Citizenship replaced the Parliamentary Law Class. The corps of instructors has been increased by the addition of several new teachers.

An increase in the registration fees was made necessary to help meet the constantly growing cost of conducting the classes. The fee for each class was $2, excepting Typewriting and First Aid to the Injured, which was $6 and $1.25 respectively. A reduction is made for registration in three or more classes. The number of lessons in each class the past season has been increased to twenty-five excepting in the First Aid Class.

The method of registration has been more systematic, giving the Superintendent of Classes an opportunity to interview each student and advise as to the wisdom of pursuing a certain study or group of studies. This innovation in organization has proved of material assistance to the student in selecting his course, directing his effort, and thus elevating the standard of work done.

INDIVIDUAL INSTRUCTION. In the class-room the element of personal contact and individual instruction has been emphasized more strongly than heretofore.

The Freehand, Architectural, and Mechanical Drawing Classes and the Class in Lettering and Sign Painting will, at the close of the course, hold a public exhibition of the work done during the season. To supplement the regular course in Business Law, one or more lectures are to be given by the instructor on subjects of popular interest. Following the course in Government and Citizenship, the members of the class have planned for a public demonstration of the work accomplished in the class-room. The Class in Elocution will close its season with an evening of entertainment for friends of the class.

The members of the Civil Service Class have formed a permanent organization for social and self-culture purposes. It is to be known as the Civil Service Club of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union, and holds meetings the first and third Thursday of each month. The following are the officers:—

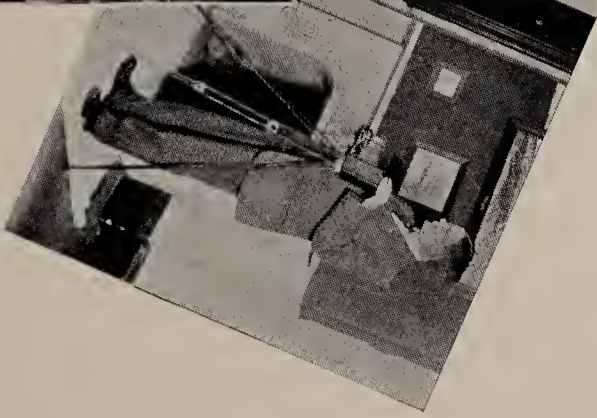

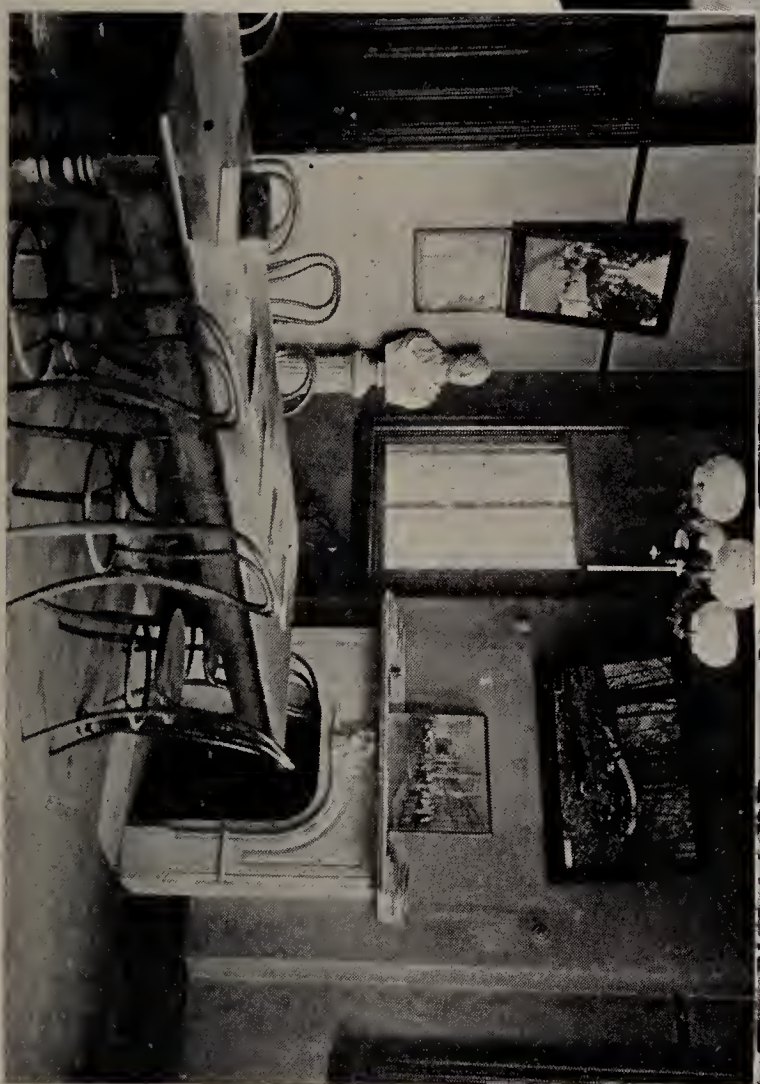

THOMAS F. DUFFY, President.

EDWARD V. FREEMAN, Vice-President.

MISS ALICE E. E. TAYLOR, Secretary and Treasurer.

The proverb, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," is as true at the present time as it was when it first saw the light of day, and so George, Herbert, William, and numerous others, who work all day in the store, office, or factory, need a certain amount of amusement to round out their lives. This it is the aim of the Committee to provide in the rational and uplifting series of concerts, musicals, and dramatic entertainments, the details of which for the past season appear on the following pages.

Prominent among the entertainments have been the CAMERA CLUB.

“Members’ Nights,” entirely under the direction of the Sub-committee on Members. The programme of the evening has opened with the getting together at supper of the Committee and such members of the Union as cared to attend. Comradeship and good fellowship have held sway, and, after the special programme, crackers, cheese, and coffee have been served, adding a last touch to the sociability of the evening.

The Camera Club has been very active during the past season, the second of its existence. The rooms are fully equipped for doing all kinds of photographic work. There are three individual dark rooms, printing outfit, enlarging room, etc. Instructive talks and practical demonstrations have been given. During the summer numerous outings to near-by seashore resorts and places of historic interest were enjoyed by the Club’s members and friends.

CAMERA CLUB. The Club held its second annual exhibit in November last, at which time blue and red ribbons were awarded to members exhibiting pictures of merit. The “Round Robin Guild Pictures” from the Photo Era were on exhibition in the Club Room in March, and attracted much attention.

The popularity of the Club is manifested by its increasing membership, now numbering nearly fifty.

STEPHEN E. WOODBURY, President.

HENRY C. SHAW, Vice-President.

WILFRED S. WHITE, Secretary and Treasurer.

Largely through the efforts of the Sub-committee on Members a group of our young men has organized a STUDY CLUB. current events, salesmanship, commercial methods, business ethics, personal development. Committees on organization, on programme, etc., have been appointed, and it is proposed to arrange for courses of reading, study, social gatherings, or other means of promoting the all-round improvement and upbuilding of the members. Regular meetings are held on alternate Monday evenings.

THANKSGIVING DAY was observed, as usual, with “open house” throughout the day and a promenade concert in the evening. The Premier Orchestra, George H. Nero, leader, furnished the music.

LIBRARY.

LIBRARY.

The Library is one of the most important branches of the work among our members, and from the day its doors were opened it has been of great assistance to the many who have had occasion to use it. It is one of the largest in Boston, and it has been the effort of the Committee to keep its standard of the highest.

The following are the statistics of the work for the past year:—

Number of volumes at the beginning of the year (April 1, 1909) . . . . .		18,515
Added by gift . . . . .	15
Added by purchase . . . . .	220
Bound from periodicals . . . . .	15
Missing volumes returned . . . . .	37	287
		<hr/>
		18,802
Missing and withdrawn . . . . .		770
		<hr/>
Number of volumes in Library at present time . .	18,032
Volumes rebound during the year . . . . .	546
Volumes worn out and replaced . . . . .	32
Issued for home reading . . . . .	16,620
Charged (April 1, 1910) as out . . . . .	336
Number of volumes in the study . . . . .	298

The list of periodicals regularly received includes twenty-two dailies, fifty weeklies, three bi-weeklies, forty-three monthlies, and eight quarterlies, a total of one hundred and twenty-six.

Duplicate copies of some of the most popular monthly magazines are placed in temporary binders as soon as received and issued for home reading.

MAGAZINES
FOR HOME
READING.

The circulation of these periodicals in this way is much appreciated, as the following figures showing the number of times each was taken out for one day or longer would indicate:—

"Century," 272.	"Harper's," 318.
"Scribner's," 291.	"Outing," 182.
"New England," 81.	"Atlantic," 78.
Total, 1,222.

For the coming year, in place of the "New England Magazine," "World's Work" will be issued for home circulation. The policy of open shelves, with free access, inaugurated many years ago, has been continued, and has been most heartily approved by the many members and others who use the Library. The shelves have been filling up rapidly for the past twenty years, many of them containing two and three rows of books, so that the time has come when it becomes necessary to weed out from the catalogue those books which are not in active demand or those whose popularity has waned. Under the supervision of Mr. Ward, of the Boston Public Library, during the past season 400 volumes were discarded, and others have been eliminated from time to time by the Librarian. This year we have adopted the policy of restricting the fiction purchased, which has resulted in somewhat reducing the circulation for home reading, but has maintained the standard for the shelves.

OPEN

Lists of new books added to the Library have been published in the "Union Bulletin," and from time to time special books relating to subjects included in our lecture courses or bearing upon the topics of the day were published on a special bulletin board in the Library, and these special lists were largely consulted.

NEW BOOKS.

The Committee and the Librarian welcome at all times suggestions from those interested in making the Library one of the best of its kind, and recommendations of books not already in the Library will always be given prompt consideration.

Statistics of circulation of Union books are very interesting. Referring to the circulation for home reading (16,620 books issued), a book is frequently read by two or three or four persons in the home or residence of the member before being returned. In one case four people were known to have read a book before it was returned, although the book was only out for about a week.

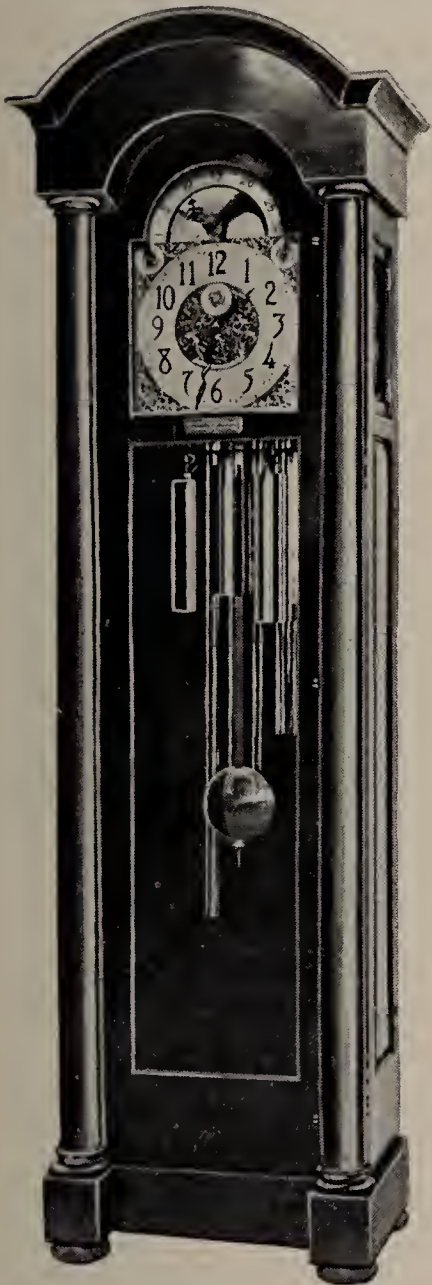

The administration of a library of the size of the Union Library requires constant care and oversight, keeping the books and magazines in order and the room clean and attractive, well lighted and ventilated, and this result has been achieved through the faithful and untiring services of Mr. Ray, who has remained Librarian, in addition to his duties as Assistant to the President.

ROOMS.

Although an old story for our members, for those who read the report for the first time a brief description of our Union home may be of interest. The building is situated on Boylston Street, just east of Tremont Street, adjoining the Hotel Touraine, opposite the Masonic Temple, and over-

CENTRAL LOCATION. looking the Common. The location is central, within easy walking distance of both North and South Union Stations and near the Boylston Street entrances of the Tremont Street Subway and the Washington Street Tunnel, while nearly all the various lines of surface cars pass the door or near by on Tremont or Washington Streets.

Entrance to all departments is through the Reception

RECEPTION ROOM AND OFFICE. Room and Office, which contains the desks of the heads of the principal departments. Here business of the society is transacted, strangers and others desiring information are received, and such attentions are afforded as are in the power of the Union to furnish. Comfortable chairs, reading and writing tables, files of the leading dailies, telephone, facilities for checking bundles and garments, and similar conveniences are provided.

The rooms are open every day, including Sundays, from eight o'clock A.M. to ten o'clock P.M.

PLAYING CHESS.

On the Boylston Street front, connecting with the Reception Room and Office, are the rooms for games, where facilities are afforded for chess, checkers, dominoes, bagatelle, pool, and other games. From the rear of the Reception Room and Office, extending into the large LIBRARY. L, is the Library and Reading Room. Windows on three sides furnish an abundance of daylight, while an entirely rearranged and up-to-date system of electric lighting provides for the evening hours. The Reading Room is one hundred and twelve feet long, and has five thousand square feet of floor space.

THE STUDY. Writing as well as reading tables are furnished, and the Study is supplied with books of reference accessible to members at all times.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE. At the rear of the Reception Room and Office, commanding a view of the entire floor, is the President's Office and Directors' Room.

The Toilet Room, complete with lavatories and baths, is down one flight of stairs from the rear of the Reception Room.

The Gymnasium, another flight below, on the ground floor, with light and air on every side, 136 feet in length, GYMNASIUM. covers 6,200 superficial feet, exclusive of dressing-rooms, or, in all, over 10,000 feet. It is the largest gymnasium in the city. Dressing-rooms, general and private, with ample locker accommodations, connecting bath-rooms, supplied with hot and cold water and complete modern equipments, are provided.

TERMS. Members of the Union by the payment of seven dollars per year are entitled to the use of the Gymnasium at all times when open. Four dollars per year entitle them to its use after six o'clock P.M.

Above the Reception Room and reached by a stairway from that room and also from the main entrance are the parlor and connecting committee EATON and class-rooms, as well as the Eaton Hall, HALL. named for our benefactor, the late Joseph B. Eaton. This hall seats about one hundred and, if desired, may be connected with The Union Hall.

The Parlor is in the front of the building, overlooking the Common. The furnishings are simple PARLOR. and homelike, including a piano, a number of fine paintings, stereoscopic views and photographs, and the "Waterston Collection" of some five hundred volumes. The room is used especially for the smaller gatherings, for quiet social chats, and here impromptu and informal musicales are enjoyed by members and friends.

Over the Library, reached by the main stairway from Boylston Street, and also from the Reception Room through Eaton Hall, is The THE UNION Union Hall. The hall is furnished with HALL. folding chairs, and, with the gallery, is capable of seating five hundred. It has an emergency

THE STAGE. stage, thirty-six feet wide and thirty-nine feet deep, with a proscenium twenty-one feet, is the largest private stage in the city. It is provided with modern and appropriate scenery, suitably fireproofed, and an asbestos fire curtain separates it from the auditorium in emergency. Connecting with the stage are large and convenient anterooms and dressing-rooms, with separate entrance from Boylston Square.

The Union Hall is admirably adapted for concerts, lectures, and dramatic performances, and is used for these and for the larger gatherings of the members. It is also let for similar purposes when not required by the Union. The electric lighting of the auditorium, stage and anterooms has been entirely rearranged during the year.

Norcross Hall, in the rear of the building, with opening on Boylston Square, has a large stage and ante-

NORCROSS HALL. room and a seating capacity of two hundred and seventy-five. The hall was named in memory of the late Hon. Otis Norcross, Trustee, and for years Treasurer of the Permanent Fund.

COMMITTEE AND CLASS ROOMS.

Committee, Class, and Assembly Rooms, as well as other smaller rooms, furnish accommodations for the varied branches of work undertaken.

IMPROVED LIGHTING.

With the co-operation and advice of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company a complete rearrangement of our lighting system has been made. Attractive fixtures of modern type carefully designed to give the greatest efficiency and best distribution of light have been installed. This, with the general introduction of the Tungsten lamp, has added materially to the brightness of our rooms, and, it is expected, will result in some considerable economy. The improvement is particularly noticeable in the Reception Room, Library, and in The Union Hall.

No extraordinary repairs to rooms or building have been necessary, and no radical changes have been made in the use of the various rooms.

The large membership, the constantly changing requirements of the various branches of the work undertaken, together with the opportunity ever present for the undertaking of important new lines of work, keeps before the Committee the necessity for some radical reconstruction of the present building or the erection in the near future of a new one.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF.

No special changes have occurred during the year in the personnel of the administrative staff. Minor changes in the desk assistants, janitors, and in the employees in the fire-room have been made, otherwise the roll of employees has remained the same as for the past few years, and the Committee has pleasure in recording its appreciation of their continued faithful service.

CORNER IN LIBRARY.

The following have served as ushers for the various lectures and entertainments with faithfulness and courtesy, appreciated alike by members and management:—

ARCHIE C. ALLINGHAM, Chairman.

CURTIS S. FAIRBANKS.

FRED C. CHOATE.

CLARENCE E. DAVIS.

ARTHUR F. HOPKINS.

CARL A. GUILD.

ERNEST B. VAUGHAN.

Early Thursday morning, January 13, the building of the Young Men's Christian Association was destroyed by fire, and it was our very pleasant privilege to extend to them temporary accommodations in our rooms. The Association Day School was promptly established in The Union Hall, Parlor, and various class-rooms, and a general invitation extended to all the members of the Association to share with our own members the privileges of the Union until it might be convenient for them to secure more permanent quarters. Their Day School remained with us for some five or six weeks, and accommodation was given a number of their members during the making ready of their new quarters on Ashburton Place.

During the year the following gifts have been received:—

From the estate of William H. Baldwin, a handsome hall clock, a gift in memory of our late President, and in accordance with his specially expressed wish. The clock, suitably inscribed, has been placed in the Reception Room, where its rich appearance and tuneful chimes add materially to the homelike cheer.

From Mr. Albert L. Murdock, a large and very valuable oil painting, "Moses gathering his Flocks and Herds," by Rosa Di Tivoli, 1705.

From Albert L. Murdock, charts of statistics and information of interest and value for educational classes.

From Mrs. Thomas Gaffield, whose husband was an active member of the Union in its early days and at one time its President, a large oil painting, "Scene from the Deserted Village."

FRANK L. LOCKE, Chairman.

WILLIAM H. BROWN.

GEORGE S. BALDWIN.

"CAMP HUBBARD."

MEMBERS.

We record another year of prosperity for the Union, and for its members another year of added opportunities for greater self-improvement, more extensive social acquaintance, and a firmer grip upon the important things of life. Membership in the Union is a great factor in all of these results; for where but in do you find the new ideas, the different points of view, the various and diverse moods of thought, which add so much to our knowledge and our enjoyment? And how better can we help ourselves than by taking an active part and interest in the work of an organization such as the Union, which brings together individuals from so many different walks of life, of different ages, different beliefs, different ways of looking at things? Co-operation is the great secret of modern business success, and it is equally the great means of effectiveness in social and benevolent work.

It is encouraging to be able again to record the interest of our members in the Union. Our Subcommittee on Members now has a membership of correspondingly taken a wider scope, and the Union has already shown, and will surely continue to show, most beneficial results in its work and influence from the energy, voluntarily, cheerfully, and most self-sacrificingly displayed by these members of the Sub-committee. May their example be contagious!

SUB-COMMITTEE. seventeen. Its activities have

Almost every young man joins the Union for some special purpose embodying his own special needs, interests, and inclination. Your Committee endeavors, as far as possible, to find out in each individual case what that purpose is, and to help the applicant to achieve it. Thus, for instance, a young man who joins the Union for the purpose of reading naturally associates himself with those of similar tastes.

CO-OPERATION.

In the same way those whose interests are in athletics or in social intercourse naturally seek companions whose inclinations lie in the same direction. These young men should meet and organize in the way that other young men in the Union have organized for a common purpose in following the pursuit in which each group is particularly interested. In this way will the members achieve the best results for themselves and for the Union. And your Committee stands ready and willing to help any such organizations to the full extent of its power.

The men who comprise the Sub-committee of Members at present are the following:—

WINFIELD L. NOURSE, Chairman.

A. L. WASHBURN, Secretary.

CHARLES W. CHAPIN.

JAMES H. DALTON.

Our membership continues to keep its accustomed numbers, and we take pleasure in recording that from April 1, 1909, to April 1, 1910:—

1,451 new members have been admitted to the Union,
 1,877 members have renewed their membership,
 2 are new subscription members, and 11 subscription members have renewed their subscriptions.

The number of our life members now is 2,043.

Our total membership on April 1, 1910, is 5,370.

Young men, without regard to their religious belief or association, are cordially invited to become members of the society, and to co-operate in the accomplishment of its purposes.

FEES. The fee for Annual Membership is One Dollar.

Sustaining Membership, Ten Dollars

Subscription Membership, Five Dollars.

Life Membership, Twenty-five Dollars.

A subscription membership for five successive years constitutes a life membership.

We regret to announce the death of the following

BENEVOLENT ACTION.

The Christian Union has an interest in all lines of philanthropic activities, but its work at present is largely centred in three specific enterprises, "The Country Week," "Rides for Invalids," and "The Christmas and New Year's Festival."

"The Country Week" (now become a Country Fortnight) has an unbroken record of thirty-five years of helpful and encouraging work. It has given happy summers to many thousands of children, and been an annual inspiration to clean and wholesome living. During the season of 1909, 2,354 persons, mostly children, enjoyed their vacation privileges, and many more were indirectly assisted to similar advantages.

A special illustrated report of "The Country Week" has been prepared, and may be had on application. Here are the names of the good men and women who carry on this work:—

COMMITTEE ON "THE COUNTRY WEEK."

Miss MABEL WILBUR.	Miss ALICE F. POOR.
Miss EDITH KENDALL.	Miss MARION HARDY DARY.

Miss EDNA M. SMITH.	Miss NANNIE ALEXANDER.
WILLIAM HOWELL REED, Jr.	ROBERT A. WOODS.
Mrs. WILLIAM A. L. BAZELEY.

Miss E. S. JOHNSON, Secretary.

"Rides for Invalids" also has a long and honorable record. It is peculiarly a Union undertaking, no other organized work of this nature being known to operate in our city. It furnishes transportation to and from the hospitals, provides carriage rides for convalescents, gives car tickets to delicate mothers and little children, sends the weak and weary on harbor excursions, and in many ways takes the invalid "back to nature," and makes its constant contribution to the health and happiness of our citizens. It works in full sympathy with modern efforts for the suppression of disease, and has the emphatic approval of physicians, nurses, and social workers generally.

Here are the simple statistics, but they indicate feebly the results:—

“The Christmas and New Year’s Festival” was joyously celebrated on the afternoon of Saturday, January

THE CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR’S FESTIVAL.

1, and it was the thirty-seventh time it had been done. About six hundred and fifty children crowded The Union Hall, and made merry over the entertainment provided. After a Happy New Year greeting from President Locke, some amusing moving pictures were shown generously contributed by Mr. F. J. Howard, interspersed with singing by a charming little girl. Then came some lusty singing by the children themselves, some beautiful dancing by Miss Bernice Tupper, and the disclosing of the big Christmas tree on the stage, with Mr. Willis C. Goss as Santa Claus. A generous collation of ice-cream and cake closed the entertainment; and, as the children departed, every one received a large package of clothing and other articles (not omitting toys), especially selected for individual needs.

All this required a good deal of labor and planning, and here are the names of those who did it:—

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The Employment Bureau is an important department of the Union's benevolence, and through this office under the careful administration of Mr. H. C. Bronsdon, many young men have obtained positions and many employers have secured clerks, all with no charge to either side.

The work of the past season has advanced greatly over that of preceding years. More important situations have been offered us and more lucrative positions have been filled, but the demand still exceeds the supply.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Special attention is given to advising young men
VOCATION. in making a choice of vocation, arrangement often being made for them to consult men of experience in the particular line of business they desire to enter. Our motto is, "The right man in the right place."

This is a summary of the year's work:—

Applications for employment . . . . .	971
Applications for employees . . . . .	492
Places filled . . . . .	288

Mr. Bronsdon has also received and distributed clothing, quietly supplying the needs of many who would otherwise have suffered.

BOARD AND LODGING LISTS.

Mr. James H. Dalton has continued in charge of our Board and Lodging Lists, which are carefully kept up and much consulted.

Miss Elise S. Johnson remains in general charge of our benevolent work, and its success is largely due to her intelligent sympathy and trained efficiency.

We again express our grateful appreciation of the generosity which has enabled us to carry on these enterprises, and hope to prove worthy of its continuance.

EDWARD A. CHURCH, Chairman.
CHARLES L. BURRILL.
FRANK L. LOCKE.

PUBLIC WORSHIP AND RELIGIOUS STUDY.

The development of character is, after all, the important thing in the life of a young man. He may have education, talent, physical strength, money; yet, if his character is not well developed, his life is lacking in the one thing that most of all insures success and commands the respect of his fellows. It is the special endeavor of this Committee to provide means for developing this side of the young man.

SEATS IN CHURCHES. The importance of a connection with some church is urged upon members, and aid is given in obtaining seats in the particular church which they desire to attend.

A course of Sunday afternoon meetings to which men only were invited was held regularly in The Union Hall at four o'clock, beginning in November. This course was called "Every Day Problems: Meetings for

EVERY-DAY PROBLEMS. the Mutual Consideration of Problems that face us." The meetings were entirely informal, speakers and young men meeting on common ground, the speaker's presentation of the topic being followed by general discussion and questions. Subjects of value, practical and timely, selected from the innumerable questions that constantly arise in business, politics, government, public office, and private life, were considered. The course proved most interesting and instructive.

LIST. A list of the speakers and topics will be found at the end of this committee's report.

Preceding the talks informal musical programmes in general charge of Mr. Otto E. Lewis have been given.

SPECIAL MUSIC.

Mr. Lewis has been ably assisted by the Standish Male Quartette: W. C. Mooney, first tenor; Otto E. Lewis, second tenor; R. L. Buskirk, baritone; and W. H. Corlis, basso. The programmes, consisting of solos, duets, and concerted selections, were varied and well chosen. Mr. Van Buskirk, who is also a talented reader, gave much pleasure by frequent appropriate recitations and readings. Preliminary to the regular meeting an informal service of song, in which all were invited to take part, proved an attraction to many.

The Committee, and indeed all who attended, are deeply indebted to the good friends, clergymen and laymen, who have so generously responded to our invitation to assist in the various meetings and discussions. We take this opportunity to acknowledge a hearty appreciation of this interest and service.

The usual invitation was extended to clergymen of different denominations who were to be in the city during the summer vacation season to leave their addresses with the President. This list is available for use, not only by members, but also by the public, and has proved of no little convenience to persons desiring the services of a clergyman during the summer.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

The wide-spread interest in athletic exercise and sports of all kinds renders the Gymnasium an indispensable feature of institutions catering to the needs and education of young men. On April 1, 1910, there were 1,127 members in the Union Gymnasium, the largest and most completely fitted in Boston. The extensive floor area permits a large number of persons to exercise at the same time without overcrowding, besides affording ample accommodation for the special classes on the various apparatus.

The classes, one of the most popular attractions to all gymnasium members, especially appeal to beginners, as the exercises are easy and simple, and yet of great value in building up the body. Business and professional men, whose time is limited, find them of great benefit, and avail themselves of this opportunity to improve their physical condition at a minimum of time expended. The class work is divided into the following: free movement, dumb bell, Indian club, high bars, parallel bars, German horse, vaulting, tumbling, boxing, wrestling. The instructors and leaders are: Mr. German F. Hoffman, Superintendent; Mr. Everett F. Parks, Assistant Superintendent; and Messrs. Lewis D. Whiting, B. J. Weston, E. H. Donohoe, William Scott, W. H. Cronan, George L. Silver, Arthur Schneider, and P. J. Kaney.

MUSIC. Music for the class exercises has been in charge of our pianist, Mr. Louis F. Korb, whose familiarity with the special requirements of this position has contributed in no small measure to the attractiveness of these drills.

Our Superintendent, Mr. Hoffman, and his assistant, Mr. Parks, have both largely contributed to the effectiveness and popularity of the class work and the general gymnasium work, and have given personal care and instruction to such individual members as have sought their counsel.

The class for boys on Saturday mornings has been well attended, this feature being in charge of a special instructor and affording a safe form of recreation and exercise, which parents of growing boys much appreciate.

CLASS FOR BOYS. A special class meets on Tuesday evenings under the direction of George J. Higgins, receiving instruction in training to meet the requirements of the physical examinations and strength test of the Boston Police and Fire Departments.

TRAINING FOR CIVIL SERVICE. The bath-rooms, both general and private, are thoroughly equipped with the latest appliances which make hot and cold water bathing delightful and invigorating. They are under constant supervision by a special attendant, and every effort is made to keep them scrupulously clean and sanitary. The dressing-rooms now contain a total of 1,308 lockers, and four private dressing-rooms, provided with extra large lockers, meet the special needs of many of our patrons.

The massage treatment remains in care of our expert masseur, Mr. Edwin F. Harding, whose services by

MASSAGE. special appointment are enjoyed by those who recognize the great benefit of this scientific treatment. An electric vibratory massage machine has been recently added to our equipment, and we hope that its peculiarly novel properties of invigoration will be of material benefit to those who use it.

The marble Hand-ball Court has been in constant use throughout the entire year, a new and improved

HAND-BALL COURT. system of lighting making the court more popular than ever. The exhilarating exercise which the game affords, together with the required skill and the friendly competition, have been of great physical and mental benefit to large numbers of men, both young and old.

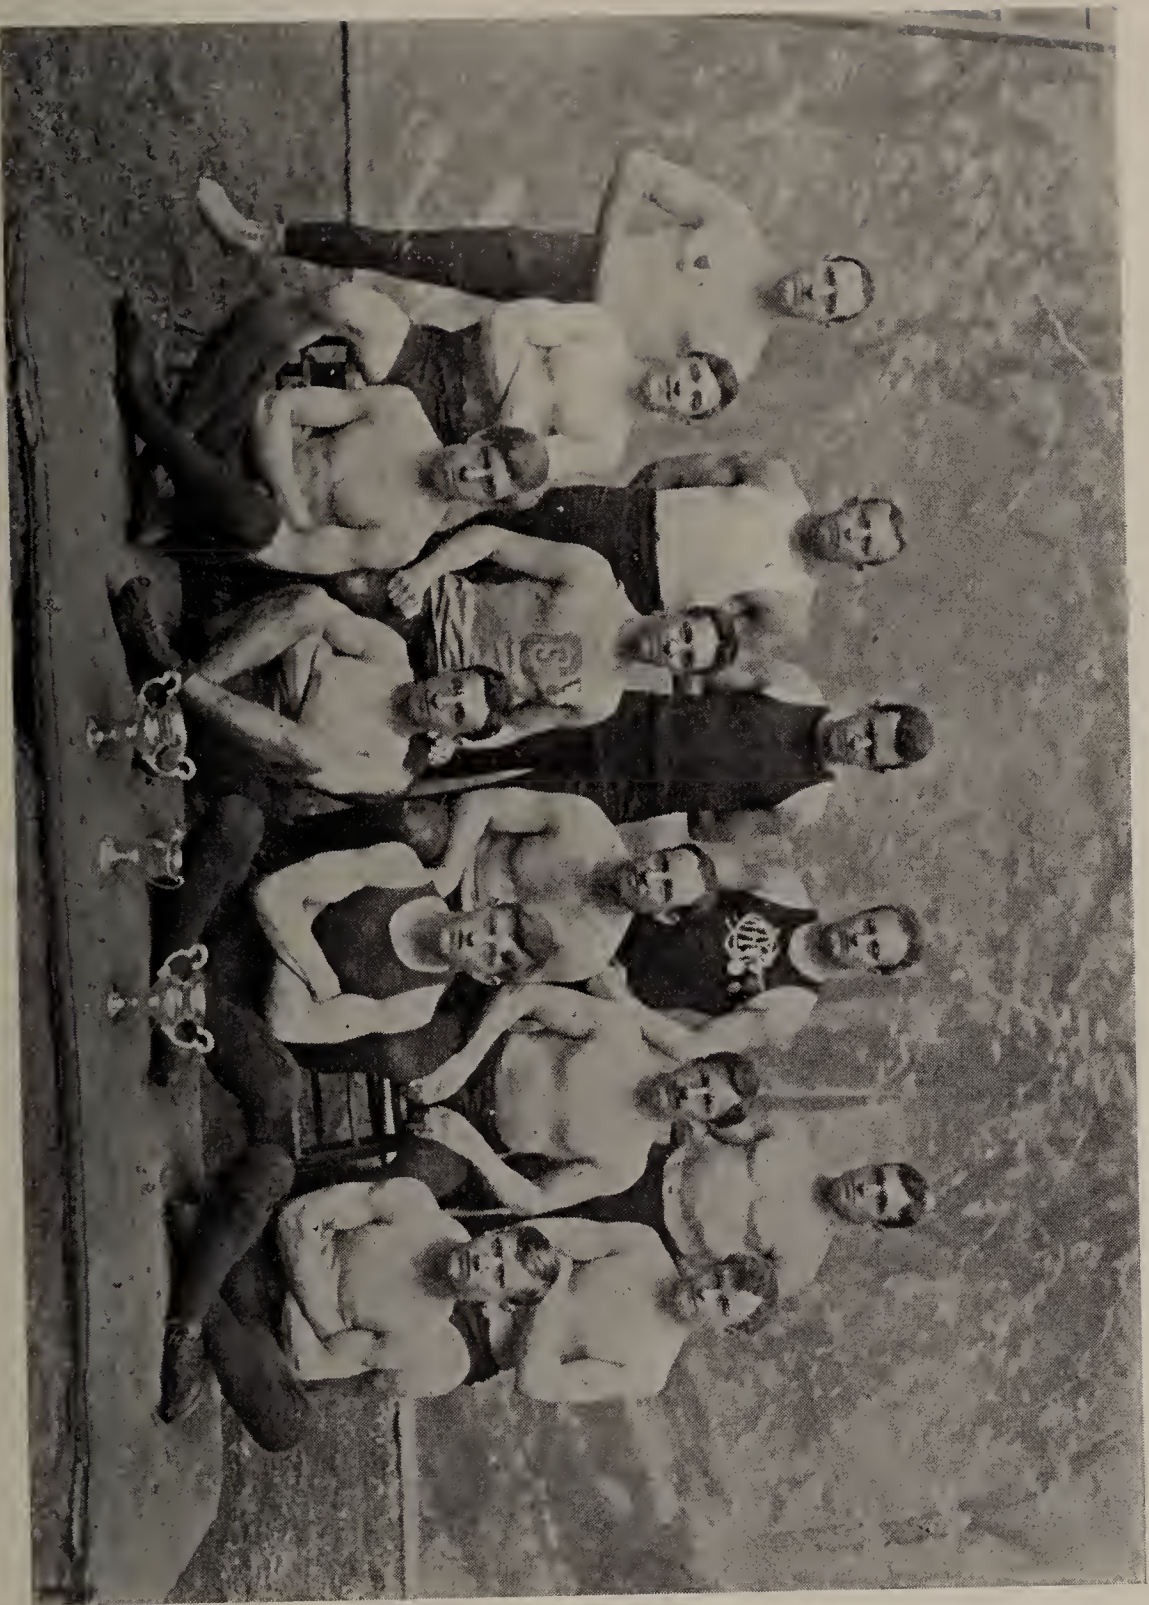

A public exhibition was given on March 18 on the stage of The Union Hall. The following programme of

EXHIBITION. novel and attractive features gave practical illustration of the advancement and proficiency of the members, and greatly entertained the large audience present:—

DUMB-BELL DRILL. Messrs. William Scott (leader), Louis Korb (pianist), W. S. Gibbons, F. E. Driscoll, Wm. J. Green, Arthur Fox, Ernest Borosky, Abraham Silverman, F. E. White, Victor C. Porter.

The Wrestling Club, formed early in the season, has been very active. It has two instructors, and its regular meeting night is Tuesday. Some of its members have attended various athletic meets, winning championship honors.

Special attention is called to the opportunity extended to all gymnasium members for free physical examination by our Medical Director, Dr. William R. Woodbury. The Medical Director's office is supplied with a complete outfit of the most approved appliances

PHYSICAL for testing and measuring. The EXAMINATIONS. examinations are in accordance with the Civil Service rules and methods. Many of our members avail themselves of this opportunity and of the suggestions of the Medical Director as to proper exercise, taking advantage of re-examination at the end of the term to ascertain exactly what progress has been made.

The full report of the Medical Director will be found on page 78.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Charles W. Hubbard we were able to provide at Pine Grove Station, near Riverside, a very attractive summer camp for those

SUMMER interested in outdoor life. Mr. C. E.
CAMP. Wardell was engaged to take charge.

Comfortable sleeping quarters were provided, as well as ample facilities for the preparation of meals. The camp was situated in a pleasant grove on the bank of the Charles River, and convenient facilities were afforded for bathing, boating, and canoeing. A number of the members made use of the camp for a vacation week, while others made use of it for an occasional night's stay or for a week-end outing.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL DIRECTOR.

The generous number of men who came to your Medical Director for physical examination the past year testified to the good they got from the time they spent in the Union Gymnasium.

Three hours a week certainly is not a large demand of time, and the reasonable gymnasium fee is not a dear price to pay for such large results. Both are a good investment. Health control for the young man of the city comes through temperate physical exercise and recreation. He needs the benefits they bring. In the Union Gymnasium these privileges are ready at hand. Money spent in keeping well is good economy. Regular and temperate physical exercise helps make and keep good health.

Last year as a part of the physical welfare work a course of illustrated lectures was given in The Union Hall on "Health." This year the plan was continued, the Medical Director giving a series of "Plain and Practical Talks on the Economic Value of Good Health." These talks included a conference on sex health. This subject is first in importance to every young man. Knowledge of the vital facts of life is needed, and it is a part naturally of the plan and work for promoting a sound physical and mental condition. Wholesome instruction concerning these facts and a proper opportunity to give this instruction come naturally through an institution like the Boston Young Men's Christian Union and its Medical Director.

Last year a large number of men used the Union Gymnasium to assist in qualifying for the physical requirements of the Police and Fire Departments.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM R. WOODBURY.

EARLY HISTORY.

The Boston Young Men's Christian Union was instituted in 1851, and incorporated under its present name in 1852.

Its work was temporarily interrupted by the Civil War, but in April, 1868, a complete reorganization was effected. Rooms were secured at 12 West Street, and 1868. active work resumed. The rooms soon proved too small for the purposes of the society, and larger ones were taken in the fall at what was then 300 Washington Street, corner of Suffolk Place, where the whole building above the first floor was eventually occupied. These premises also proving inadequate, it became necessary to move again. In the spring of 1874, a suitable lot of land having been found, a public appeal was made for funds with which to purchase the land and erect a new building. By the generosity of friends the necessary amount with which to begin the work was speedily secured.

The present building was completed and dedicated March 15, 1876. By the munificent legacy of eighty 1876. thousand dollars from the late Joseph B. Eaton, a Life Member, supplemented by other generous gifts, the society was enabled in 1879 (December 10) to hold its building free from all indebtedness. In 1882, on account of constantly growing needs, enlargement of the building was deemed necessary.

1883. Numerous friends promptly responded to an appeal; and an addition to the building was completed, and dedicated May 28, 1883.
